Dear Member:

This summer, top-notch M&S demonstrations from around the country will be brought to the nation's capital at the 2009 Capitol Hill Modeling & Simulation Expo. As President of The National Training & Simulation Association in conjunction with the members of the Congressional Modeling and Simulation Caucus, I invite you to join us to take part in cutting-edge hands-on demonstrations such as:

- Fly in a real flight simulator
- Taking control of an entire city during a natural disaster
- Police small arms training
- Fire-fighter Simulation
- Learn a foreign language & culture
- Performing virtual surgery using state of the art robotics
- And many more exciting uses of simulation technology

With limited time, strained budgets, or under-trained staff threatening to stall the plans of our nation's largest industries, these industries turn to modeling and simulation (M&S). Whether in the construction, defense, medical, entertainment or engineering industries, leaders are realizing that M&S is the bridge that transforms future problems into current solutions.

NTSA is proud to sponsor the 2009 Capitol Hill Modeling and Simulation Expo. The chairmen of the Congressional Modeling and Simulation Caucus, Rep. J. Randy Forbes (VA-04) will make remarks at the exhibit along with other members of the Caucus.

Attendees may RSVP to NTSA via email to ddyson@ndia.org. RSVP is appreciated, but not required for your attendance at the 2009 Capitol Hill Modeling and Simulation Expo. Additional questions about the Expo may be directed to Mrs. Debbie Dyson of NTSA via ddyson@ndia.org or 703-247-9480.

Sincerely,

RADM Fred Lewis, USN (Ret.)
NTSA President
